

PRIVACY & DATA SECURITY

Fox Rothschild helps clients defend against cyberthreats and navigate a complex web of privacy regulations.

Resources

Plan CCPA Compliance and Track State Data Privacy Laws

The California Consumer Privacy Act took effect in January 2020. Other states have followed suit by enacting or introducing their own data privacy measures. Our team tracks the latest developments and maintains an up-to-date suite of resources to help clients plan their compliance strategy no matter where they do business.

Services

Breach Prevention & Risk Mitigation

Fox partners with clients in the never-ending battle against data thieves. We work with clients' IT departments to understand and address ongoing challenges, map data in the organization, and track state, federal and international enforcement initiatives involving the collection, use, retention and disposal of private information.

Data Privacy Compliance

- HIPAA

We understand compliance with the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) isn't limited to hospitals and medical practices. Our attorneys provide comprehensive services focused on the proper handling of Protected Health Information (PHI).

- CCPA

Fox helps companies comply with CCPA, which impacts businesses far beyond California's borders. Entities with customers or employees in the state, even those that contract with companies that do business in California, are likely to be subject to some or all of the new law's requirements and will be forced to rethink their data processing practices. In addition, other states are considering similar laws. We can help companies determine their exposure, catalog the data they collect and how it is used and update their privacy policies, procedures and websites to bring them into compliance.

- GDPR

Our team works with clients to assess their GDPR exposure and design policies and procedures to mitigate risks. We use our detailed knowledge of EU data protection law, coupled with our understanding of the unique challenges it poses to U.S.-based corporations, to create pragmatic, actionable, tailored GDPR compliance plans.

Breach Response

We are steadfast in the war against data thieves. If the unthinkable happens and a client suffers a breach, either in electronic or paper form, we are poised to respond swiftly and decisively to limit additional damage and ensure full compliance with state and federal notification laws.

Our team is available 24-7 via the firm's Data Breach Hotline: 800.680.0595

Litigation

Fox attorneys defend clients against legal and enforcement actions in the aftermath of a data breach. When a client's proprietary data is improperly exposed or stolen, we pursue legal remedies to obtain relief and hold the negligent party responsible.
